

Book Launch in London

The book entitled

*A History of the Hungarian Constitution.
Law, Government and Political Culture in Central Europe,*

edited by Ferenc Hörcher and Thomas Lorman, collecting essays by Hungarian and British experts on the field, published by IB Tauris, will be discussed at a book launch, organised at the School of Slavonic and East European Studies of University College, London.

NATIONAL UNIVERSITY OF
PUBLIC SERVICE

Participants of the roundtable discussion will include:

Ferenc Hörcher (RIPG, NUPS; RCH, HAS) and Thomas Lorman (SSEES, UCL) – editors
Martyn Rady (professor of Central European History) and Philip Barker (SSEES) – authors

The event will start with the welcome speech by

His Excellency, Kristóf Szalay-Bobrovniczky, Hungary's Ambassador to the United Kingdom.

Venue: Masaryk Room, SSEES, 16 Taviton Street, London, WC1H 0BW

Date: 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm, 07 May 2019

Entry is free and all welcome.

Further details: <https://www.ucl.ac.uk/ssees/events/2019/may/history-hungarian-constitution-law-government-and-political-culture-central-europe>